Data Reporting and Visualization.

Pre-requisite: JOUR 3300 & JOUR 3321

Description: Course is an introduction to the communication of facts and data by means of charts, graphs, maps, and diagrams. Students will learn the basics of cleaning "dirty" data, how to analyze it using several programs and how to take the data trends they find and turn them into a cohesive data story. Students who are writers that want to know how to use data in their storytelling and create dynamic data visualizations should take this course. This is not a coding class, and no previous coding experience is required. Access to a computer with ability to download software onto it is required as we will be using several free programs that will need to be installed.

Students will develop the skills necessary to review live and recorded music in a variety of genres, for a range of platforms, and on deadline. Students can achieve an understanding of musical forms, conventions traditions and new aesthetics sufficient to write authoritative reviews, critical essays, features and profiles of music and musicians. Students learn about the rapidly evolving markets where music criticism appears - print, online, social media and broadcast. The ethical and legal aspects of music criticism and music criticism's role in society will be considered.
